

KOACH, the college program of The United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, invites you to the Fourteenth Annual KOACH Kallah, February 26-February 29, 2004 at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

- Students from campuses throughout North America will come together for a weekend of learning, sharing and friendship.
- Rabbi Bradley Shavit Artson, Dean of The Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, will be our scholar-in-residence.
- Community service projects, an update on Israeli current events and a taste of Los Angeles will round out the program.
- There will be time to meet in small groups and network with students from across the continent.

Accommodations will be provided at the Radisson Hotel Midtown, a short walk from USC Hillel and the USC campus. There will be three to four people in each room (sharing double beds) and meals are included. The cost for the Kallah (not including transportation) is only $185. Limited scholarships are available (the Kallah is already heavily subsidized) and we encourage you to contact the rabbi from your home congregation and your Hillel Foundation for funds as well.

To register, visit www.koach.org or return the attached application no later than February 2, 2004. Space cannot be guaranteed after that time. A $100 minimum deposit must be received with your application; payment in full is preferred. We are able to accept credit card payment. Upon receipt of your application and deposit, additional details will be sent to you. Should you need to cancel your Kallah reservation, please note that refunds will only be available until February 10, 2004.

Plan to arrive in Los Angeles by 4:00PM on Thursday, February 26. The Kallah will conclude at 1:00PM on Sunday, February 29.
